Rise of Butter and Cheese at Sea.

When the schooner Eddie Pierce, from Boston, bound to Barcelona, Cuba, from southeast of Nantucket, about 300 miles from Sandy Hook, June 18, a firkin of butter was seen to rise in the water. Others followed until 337 had come to the surface. Boxes of cheese also came up, to the number of twenty-four, and were secured, when the schooner turned back to Boston, when her owners filed a libel for salvage. The marks on the packages were legible. There are two theories regarding the origin of the butter and cheese thus found "derelict" at sea. One is that some unknown freight vessel had been lost at that spot, and that the packages were released by its breaking up. The other theory is that the butter and cheese were lost from the compartments of the Anchora after her collision with the Queen, near that place, June 12, and that the refrigerators in which the packages were stored had only just begun to break up when the Eddie Pierce appeared on the scene.

A Newport Incident.

From the Hour.

It is certain that in American society the men make the belles. There is a French proverb: "Men are only what women make them." With us it is the exact opposite. A case in point occurred a few years ago in Newport, when several young men, then well known in society, determined to try the experiment. They selected a charming young lady, bright enough to please in conversation, but not remarkable for beauty, nor quite within the charmed circle of society. For days they took it in turns to dance with her, to drive her out, and to display all the devotion necessary to make her agreeably conspicuous. The object of these attentions was as much surprised as she was flattered. In a short time the leaders of fashion saw what was right, and they called on her. She was a belle!

South African Diamonds.

From Fraser's Magazine.

The produce of the South African mines is enormous, and the quality of the stones, which is frequently marred by a somewhat tawny complexion, is reported to be improving. Vast profits have, of course, been realized. One gentleman's claim is said to have cleared in two years $45,000. The New Rush mine alone yields $3,000 a day. In 1875, when the diggings had been at work only four years, gems to the value of $3,500,000 had been extracted from it. The packets of diamonds sent by post bag from Kimberley to Cape Town in 1876 weighed 773 pounds, and were worth $1,414,590. Nor does there seem to be any present prospect of the supply coming to an end.

A Rare Chance.

Bargains, Bargains at ISAAC BARNETT'S. I have bought a large invoice of A Strassburger & Co's. closing stock. All desirable goods, at an immense reduction. Will sell them at prices heretofore never known. Call soon and often if you want to get the benefit.

The Great Desideratum found at last. Castor oil made pleasant. Parry's palatable CASTOR OIL is equal in medicinal activity to the ordinary unprepared Castor Oil, but has a pleasant taste. It is easily taken and retained by the stomach, even of delicate persons. Children take it readily and make no fuss about it. Osborn & Shoemaker, Agents for Washoe County.

W. Goeggel's customers admit that he does none but good work. His stock of watches and jewelry is the finest and best in town. Store on Virginia street, sign of the big staircase.

FOR PRESIDENT,

JAMES A. GARFIELD,

OF OHIO

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

CHESTER A. ARTHUR,

OF NEW YORK.

A GOOD CERTIFICATE.

The Bodie News says that J. H. Kinkaid's card shows that the Gazette owed the Bank when it failed. This is not true. The card does not say anything of the sort. The bank had their gold coin a month before the suspension. The News says:

"If a few such men as Beck and the Gazette man had made their accounts good the bank would not have been compelled to suspend. As it is, these men are the ones that created the trouble, and by their unjust charges against an honorable man, endeavor to destroy his well earned reputation for integrity. For ourselves, knowing all the parties, we will say that Jas. H. Kinkaid is as much their superior in every attribute of an honorable man, as honesty and purity is above sland and vilification."

S. F. Hoole's word, will go a long way towards vindicating a man in this community.

The Salt Lake Tribune does not seem to be making many Republican votes. Why this unwonted apathy, Judge?

General Hancock Advised to Hold His Tongue.

From the New York Sun.

Gen Hancock has made a beginning. He enforces with colloquial eloquence the necessity of holding his tongue. He gives out that presently he will speak, and speak to great purpose. The sail to Staten Island is cool and pleasant these hot summer evenings. We advise Gen. Hancock to take a sail on a Staten Island boat at about six o'clock. Among the passengers he will note a gentleman of slight but elegant build, whose office dark hair has turned almost white, but whose eye has not lost its penetrating and lustrous fire. Then this conversation might naturally take place. Gen. Hancock: "Gen. Fremont, everybody knows, and Abraham Lincoln once said that you were a model candidate. May I ask you the secret of it?" Gen. John C. Fremont: "I kept my mouth shut and threw away my pen." Just then the boat will land in safety, as we hope Gen. Hancock will land at the White House.

Impure Breath.

Among all the disagreeable consequences that follow the decay of the teeth, an impure breath must be the most mortifying and unpleasant to its possessor, and it is the most incurable and offensive in society; and yet the cause of it may easily be removed by cleansing your teeth daily with that truly popular dentifrice, FRAGRANT SOZODONT. It purifies and sweetens the breath, cools and refreshes the mouth, and gives a pink-like appearance to the teeth. Gentlemen who indulge in smoking should cleanse their teeth with SOZODONT, as it removes all unpleasant odors of the weed. Ask your druggist for it.

Stop That Cough

With a sample bottle of Kaiser's German Elixir. This is the most wonderful remedy ever introduced, being mild, yet positive in its action, and soothing under all circumstances. Old and young may use it with perfect security. It is rich in the medicinal properties of tar, wild cherry and horehound. Ask your druggist, Messrs. Osburn & Shoemaker, about its merits. They sell large quantities of it and say it expedites all others. The genuine bears the Prussian coat of arms and the facsimile signature of Dr. Kaiser on the wrapper and has the name "Kaiser" in every 75 cent bottle. Samples 15 cent. Large size 50 cents.

I. Fredrick's watch work has always given entire satisfaction.

We Challenge The World.

When we say we believe, we have evidence to prove that Shiloh's Consumption Cure is decidedly the best Lung Medicine made, in as much as it will cure a common or Chronic Cough, in one-half the time and relieve Asthma, Bronchitis, whooping cough, croup, and show more cases of consumption cured than all others. It will cure where they fail, it is pleasant to take, harmless to the youngest child, and we guarantee what we say. Price, 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1.00. If you have sore, chest or back lame, use Shiloh's Famous Plaster. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker, Drug Store, Reno, Nevada.

The most popular and fragrant Perfume of the day "HACKMETACK." Try it. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker, Drug Store, Reno, Nevada.

Do You Believe It.

That in this town there are scores of persons passing our store every day whose lives are made miserable by indigestion, dyspepsia, sour and distressed stomach, liver complaint, constipation, etc., when for 75 cents we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker, Drug Store, Reno, Nevada.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, etc., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. LAMONT, Station D, New York City, MAY 14th DAW.

When you have watches or clocks to repair don't forget the old pioneer DeBell. His well known reputation as a skillful workman, will insure satisfaction.

Davidson, the Jeweler, is a good one.

To The Masonic Fraternity.

The Northwestern Masonic Aid Association of Chicago is the largest and most prosperous in the U. S. It now numbers nearly 8,000 members. Gives $250.00 to the aid of deceased Masons—has paid out about $150,000 in six years, to widows and orphans and the annual cost of membership is but about one-fourth the expense of an ordinary insurance policy. There is no more certain, reliable or economical way of establishing an immediate estate, or providing for the future than is offered by the above institution. For further information and circulars apply or send to my office on the east side of Virginia street, south of the railroad, Reno, Nev. JOE DUBBART, Agent for Reno and vicinity.

—There is an assessment of fifty cents on Chollar.
—The water will be turned off early to-morrow morning for an hour or two.
—Grasshoppers are now pairing off and will be depositing eggs in a day or two.
—The grasshoppers are now all to fly, and will soon be winging their way about the valley in flocks.
—J. L. McFarlin to-day had a fire plug put in at the N. E. corner of the building occupied by the GAZETTE.
—There will be a meeting of the Trustees of the Reno School District No. 10 on Wednesday evening at seven o'clock, in Roger Johnson's office.
—A number of prominent citizens joined the boys in a game of football in front of the Episcopal church last evening, preparatory to attending service.
—For a mile beyond the toll house on the road to Pooville the ground is alive with grasshoppers. They rise in clouds about the feet of a moving horse.
—Croquet is all the rage at Pooville this season. There are two croquet grounds in the place, but not people enough to run two games at once.

—"He has had a thorough washing, any how," remarked a heartless man, when the tale of Lawyer Cain's terrible exposure on Pyramid Lake was related to him.

—J. C. Hagerman may be found at Roger Johnson's office during business hours, having taken refuge under the latter's wing, as it were. This association has nothing whatever to do with politics.

—The Republican County Central Committee will meet on the 24th, to determine the date of the County Convention and to arrange for sending delegates to the State Convention.
—Frank Borden exhibited a pair of live milk snakes wound around his wrists, in front of the post office Saturday evening. He is fond of reptiles and frequently carries horned toads in his pockets.
—The hot weather is warming up the snakes and inducing them to court publicity. Two were seen on the Peavine road yesterday afternoon, extended at full length and basking in the rays of the sun.

—Grapes are growing finely in Reno this year. J. J. Becker, Judge Webster and others have vines in bearing. The season has been very favorable for all fruits. The currant bushes are loaded with fruit.
—The grasshoppers attacked J. C. Smith's orchard last Saturday and ate a quantity of green apples. When seized with the usual colic the insects simply lay on their backs perfectly still, until the spasms passed off, and then ate with renewed vigor.
—M. Harrison advertises that he has made an assignment of his stock in trade, book accounts, etc., to P. A. Wagner of Virginia, who is alone authorized to settle the accounts of the advertiser's grocery business. Mr. Harrison also gives notice that Morris Ash is no longer in his employ.

—Miss Jessie Shirley will give a fine elocutionary entertainment at the Baptist church to-morrow and Thursday evenings. This prodigy is only about fourteen years old, yet her acting is described as superb and her elocution as perfect.

The Red Locust.

The sage brush along several of the roads is full of the red locusts, which make a noise resembling the rattle of a snake. The insects were recently very numerous on the post road just west of Poor's ranch. Each one is armed by the approach of a team, and all take wing. They frequently fly against the horses or the traveler, with their threatening buzz. Although they look formidable, no case of stinging by them has been reported. It is asserted by some people that their sting or bite is very poisonous. The color of the insect is bright red underneath and dark on the back and head. They look like gigantic horseflies, but are vegetable feeders entirely, and do not molest animals.

DROWNED IN PYRAMID.

Henry Smith and Arthur Bellmere find a story grave by the Cupizing of a Sail Boat—Lawyer Cain and Louis Bellmere Escape Death by Clinging to the Boat—Rescued After a Night of Exposure.

Henry Smith, a fisherman, and Arthur Bellmere, a boy of Virginia city, were drowned in Pyramid lake on Saturday. A party consisting of Lawyer Cain of Reno and the brothers, Arthur and Louis Bellmere of Virginia, started out in a boat from Watson's on Saturday morning with Henry Smith as boatman and guide. They crossed the lake to Goat island to fish, and were seen returning under sail about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, several miles from either shore. Shortly afterward a violent squall came down upon the lake from the west, and when the people at Watson's looked again for the boat it had disappeared from view. The storm raged upon the water all the evening, and the waves ran so high that it would have been dangerous to venture out in a boat. Yesterday morning at 4 o'clock the wind had gone down, and J. W. Watson, George D. Winters and Robert Johnson started in a row boat to look for the missing party. They crossed the lake and went all around the island without finding any trace of them. They then rowed to the eastern shore and there found the boat aground, with Mr. Cain and Louis Bellmere on land in a condition of great exhaustion and suffering severely from exposure. The survivors were at once wrapped in the dry clothing of their rescuers and carried across to Watson's, where they received every care and attention. Both Mr. Cain and the Bellmere boy were quite ill from the effects of the exposure. Mr. Winters arrived with the news by the Pyramid stage last evening with a call for Dr. Bergman to go down and attend the survivors. The Dr. left for the lake about 9 o'clock last evening.

Mr. Cain says that the boat capsized in a sudden squall, when about half way across the lake. Smith and Arthur Bellmere sank almost immediately. He thinks Smith was injured in some way when the boat upset. Cain and the boy clung to the boat, which was driven on the pyramid opposite Watson's in the course of the evening. They landed on the pyramid and remained there all night. After daylight yesterday morning, finding that the waves had subsided, they baled out the boat with one of Cain's shoes, and paddled over in her with a plank to the eastern shore where they were shortly afterwards found.

Judge Webster and his son were caught out in the same squall. They were fishing from a boat near Doe Woods, and although close to the shore at the time, had great difficulty in making a landing.

The mother of the Bellmere boys lives in Virginia. She was telegraphed for last evening, came down on the train this morning, and took the stage for the lake.

The water is known to be very deep in the portion of the lake where the disaster occurred. The bodies of the drowned may have sunk hundreds, perhaps thousands of feet to the bottom. From these cold depths it is doubtful that they will ever be recovered. The drowned in the deep portions of Tahoe never came to the surface. Decomposition goes on so slowly in the cold water at great depths that gases are not generated in sufficient quantity to float the body up.

Henry Smith, who was drowned, was a young German, about thirty years of age. He had a happy, cheerful disposition, and had many excellent qualities. His time for the last few years had been spent mostly at the lake in fishing, and in prospecting about its shores. He was an experienced boatman, and a tireless oarsman. He was well known in Reno, and for a time attended to the business of what is known as Wintermantel's El Dorado saloon on Centre street.

Mr. Wintermantel to-day informed a GAZETTE reporter that the deceased leaves no property. He says that Smith has a father and a step-mother in Peoria, Illinois, where he has also other relatives. Smith was never married and had no relatives on the coast. He was born in Germany.

LATEST FROM PYRAMID.

Dr. Bergman is in from Pyramid. He found Mr. Cain and the boy very low from exposure and exhaustion. They are seriously ill. Mr. Cain told him that he was twice upon the point of letting go of the boat and sinking, so utterly exhausted he became while buffeting with the waves, but he held on to save the boy. The patients will be brought up from Pyramid this evening.

A Cool Spot on a Hot Day.

C. W. Perry and M. L. Holland made the ascent of Mt. Rose yesterday. They left Reno on horseback Saturday afternoon, camping out that night, and climbing the mountain through White's canyon yesterday. They left their horses about three miles from the summit, which they reached at noon. They found it very cool on the top, but enjoyed the splendid view. Last evening they arrived home without accident.

A Close Call.

Just as No. 2 was leaving Wadsworth last evening, it was discovered that the bridge across the Truckee was on fire. Quite a blaze was coming out of one of the ventilators on the roof. The train ran through it, in order that it might not be held in case the bridge burned. A few pails of water put out the fire and saved the structure.

PEAVINE PEAK.

What May Be Seen From a Neighboring Mountain Top—A Fine and Far-Reaching View.

A GAZETTE reporter rode to the summit of the Peavine mountain yesterday. The ascent is best made from Pooville. One can ride straight up the canyon to the apex of the mountain, as was done yesterday. But the canyon is very steep. An easier way is to take the road which goes to the Con. Emeralds mine from Pooville, and turning off to the right of the mine, the summit can be reached by keeping on the ridge of the mountain. This way is long and roundabout, but probably, all things considered, the best. By this route, a lady could easily ride to the very summit. There are trees just below the summit and green grass growing on level ground—a pleasant place for a picnic.

The ascent from Pooville is made in about an hour. Three hours is ample time in which to make the trip from Reno to the summit.
The view from the top of Peavine is extensive and beautiful. The whole of Washoe valley lies at one's feet. The course of the Truckee river, from the canyon through which it flows out to Wadsworth, all the way past Reno, Mayberry's and nearly up to Truckee, can be distinctly seen. Nearly the whole of Long valley is visible, and a considerable portion of Dog valley can be seen. The great pine forests of the Sierra stretch for miles and miles away to the west and south, dark and sombre, yet with a sort of melancholy beauty. Mt. Rose seems very near, looking south, and apparently not much higher. Hundreds of feet below the summit, on the northern slopes of the mountain, one looks down upon banks of snow, each feeding a tiny stream of sparkling water flowing down to make a green ribbon of fresh grass in some canyon below. Far off to the east the mountain range extending along the shore of Pyramid lake can be seen, and through Mullin's pass the lake would probably be visible through a pair of strong glasses. Neither Tahoe nor Donner is in sight. But the wide landscape, spread out like a map before one; the mountain ranges, flanking each other, row upon row, far as the eye can see in the purple, hazy East; the Truckee, winding like a white satin ribbon through the green meadows of the valley; the grand primeval forests of pine, and the majesty of the towering snowy mountains of the main range of the Sierra—all these make a magnificent picture, and make the ascent of Peavine a richly rewarded climb.

Looking down from such a height one is struck by the number of canyons which divide the slopes of the mountains. The long, rounded ridges lying between these canyons taper gradually and slope gently down into the low lands. They look like fingers, and give rise to the fancy that the mountains are shaking hands with the plains.

Working The Ophir Tailings.

The Washoe-Ophir Tailing Co.'s mill at Ophir started upon the tailings again last Thursday. For the last three weeks the mill hands have been clearing away the debris deposited by the flood caused by the bursting of Tice's reservoir. The mill is run day and night, two shifts of men being employed. About eleven men are engaged in the work. The tailings pay well, but the owners make no statement of the value of the yield. Between thirty and forty tons a day are worked. O'Hara, Willis and Yager are the principal owners. The tailings are roasted and worked by O'Hara's process. The company have the only O'Hara furnace in use in this State.

A Pleasant Week.

Al. White, J. A. Ferguson, Aleck Case and Clifford have returned from a fishing trip to Last Chance, Plumas county. They caught over six hundred trout in five days. The fish are small, weighing a half a pound on the average. The sport was fine. A number of water spouts burst above them and flooded everything, riling the water so that the fish would not notice a bait. The only adventure was furnished by Ferguson. He was cleaning fish one day and studying who would be President and constable etc., when all at once he had a rush of brains to the head which disturbed his equilibrium and he tumbled head first into the stream. The health of the party improved very much during their trip.

A Nevada Orchard.

Dave McFarland spent yesterday in Carson, and was the guest of Farmer Treadway, who won his heart by his hospitality. Dave says Mr. Treadway's orchard is very fine, and the yield this year will be large in all but peaches, which were killed by the frost. The pear, apple and plum trees are loaded with fruit, and the only drawback to Dave's happiness was that nothing was ripe. He didn't dare eat green fruit for fear of getting "a pain across him." The orchard covers ten acres, and is nineteen years old.

Premium for Drill.

Hon. C. C. Stevenson will give a $100 prize for the best drilled military company at the coming Fair. The company competing shall report with not less than forty men, and will be required to drill in accordance with "Upton's U. S. Army Tactics," in the "School of the Company," paragraphs 174 to 178, and in skirmish drill, paragraphs 279 to 280.

A COMING BONANZA.

Fine Ore In The Victorine Mine Near Austin.

A very important discovery was made last week in the Victorine mine, 30 miles south of Austin on the Smoky side of the Toiyabe range. The workings are down 230 feet, and have shown up a fine body of ore, 8 to 12 feet wide and 175 feet long, which goes from $60 to $100. The owner, E. S. Stokes, has gone ahead on this showing and built a fine 40 stamp mill and all the accessories of a first-class camp. His mill is of stone and runs by water. The improvements cost $150,000. Last week, on the 200-foot level, a body of RICH, BLACK, GOLD SULPHURETS was unearthed that goes about a thousand dollars to the ton. There is a little copper, and ten per cent of silver in it. There is no knowing how much of the sulphurets there is, but it is being prospected vigorously. If it holds out a month it is an immense mine. John Kelly has been out to see it four times, and he and W. H. Smith have been watching it for a buy. The negotiations, if complete, have not been made public, and friends of Mr. Stokes say he will not sell. The mine will be incorporated and listed on the New York and San Francisco boards. The mill will start in October and fifty cent dividends are expected.

The Reno "Live Oaks" Broken Short Off by the Virginia "Resolutes."

The Live Oaks of Reno were badly beaten by the Virginia "Resolutes" at the Turn-Verein's picnic. Carson yesterday—there can be no doubt about that. But, besides the superior play of the Resolutes, there are other reasons for the defeat of the Live Oaks. The Reno boys had T. Froley, a crack pitcher, engaged to play with them at Carson, but he violated his obligations and left for Eureka on Saturday night. A Virginia man, who is a member of the Resolutes' second nine, pitched for the Reno club during the match yesterday and, as they claim, pitched them overboard. Five innings were played and at the close the score stood: Resolutes 27; Live Oaks 9. There were no fatal accidents and no bones broken. J. Chesley of Carson was umpire, and fair. The winners treated the Reno boys well. The Live Oaks have passed a resolution denouncing T. Froley, their recent pitcher, as "a fraud."

The Donner Lake Picnic.

Mr. Higgins advertises a picnic at Donner Lake on Wednesday next. He went to the lake on Saturday and made all necessary arrangements. The excursion cars will leave attached to the regular lightning, and therefore go on time, at 7 o'clock sharp. They will return as a special train, and the party will leave the lake as their convenience may dictate. Round trip tickets will be sold at $2. Mr. Higgins desires all who are going to purchase tickets to-morrow, in order that he may make preparations accordingly. The weather at the lake is now delightful; clear and bright and cool. The fishing is splendid, and there are good row boats for all who may wish to go on the water. The floor of the dancing pavilion has been put in thorough order. Lunch baskets should be taken, as the accommodations at the lake are limited.

The Savings Bank Books.

The books of the Reno Savings Bank still remain in the custody of Sheriff Walker. It is said that he recently notified the creditors under whose attachment the books are held that they must furnish him with an indemnity bond, on the ground that he considered that he had no legal right to retain them. The bank had demanded the books. The creditors have not furnished such a bond, and it is thought that the Sheriff will surrender the books. This is merely hearsay. A reporter called to see Mr. Walker to-day but found that he had gone to Wadsworth. The bank men have made no use of the books for the purpose of preparing a statement, since the same have been in the Sheriff's possession.

Personal.

Dr. Dawson is out again. "Fewer whereases and more where-fores would be better," was what A. J. Smith said after reading the resolutions passed by the Bank Directors last Friday.

Wm. Gillespie, late clerk at the Depot Hotel, left for Auburn last evening. He does not know that he will ever return to Reno.

C. D. Hines, traveling agent of the Pacific Coast Hotel Register Co., has been in Reno for the last few days and goes to Carson to-morrow. The Co.'s hotel registers are a valuable medium for advertisers.

A Calamity that is Best Borne in Silence.

Suppose a man packs a bottle of beer on horseback in the heat of a summer day to the top of a lofty mountain, where no water is, neither bar room nor brewery. Having carefully cooled the bottle in the shade, he sits down to knock off its neck and imbibe its contents. He smiles in delighted anticipation as he tenderly raps on the bottle's neck with a stone. But a flaw in the glass causes the whole side of the bottle to tumble out, and the creaming beer all dashes out upon the rocks, leaving not enough in the bottom of the bottle for one to cool his tongue. Now what words can do justice to such an occasion?

The Cricket's Merry Song.

"Click, click, clickity-click-click-click." This is now a familiar sound in the sage brush. It proceeds from an insect locally known as the cricket, a species of locust very closely resembling the common grasshopper. These crickets go through surprising musical performances. If two or three are gathered together in one spot they will sing a song in chorus. The creatures may be invisible to the traveler, each upon a rock or under a clump of sagebrush, and their voices will rise all around him, keeping perfect time and tune with each other. A preliminary "click click" will first be sounded in a tentative way by the leader of the insect orchestra, as if to ascertain that the chorus is on hand and ready for business. Each cricket replies in turn. Then all start in together and fill the air with music. Sometimes a solo performer poises itself in the air a few feet from the ground and accompanies its song with the most ludicrous evolutions. The insect executes all sorts of curious gyrations in the air, twisting itself over and over, round and round, and though fairly shaking music from its wings. Thus employed, the cricket irresistibly reminds one of "the bones" in a minstrel troupe. Indeed the music of "the bones" and of the cricket is very similar.

Mowing Machines vs. Grasshoppers.

G. W. Mapes is in town, business here requiring him to leave his ranch for a day or two. His ranch is in Plumas county, at the north end of Sierra valley. He says the grasshoppers have done considerable damage on his place, although they have not troubled his neighbors. He put four mowing machines at work on his grass a few days ago in order to save his crop. The hoppers work fast, but the steel teeth of the mowing machines do greater execution, and the insects will have to give up the unequal fight.

A New General Agent.

Findlay Cook has been appointed agent for Nevada for all of Bancroft's publications. He is starting on the American Art Review, published in Boston, New York and Chicago by Estes and Lauriat. It will be devoted principally to educating the popular taste to a proper appreciation of etchings, which style of art is now all the rage among people of culture. The public will find Mr. Cook a pleasant and energetic gentleman, and Bancroft will find him prompt and reliable.

Washoe Boys.

Charles H. Stoddard (heavy) is prospecting in Campbell district, 28 miles south of Beowawe. He thinks there is a good chance for a strike. Frisbie and Hutchins' mine and mill are 25 miles south of Beowawe. The mine is called "The Mustang." They are running two fine concentrators, which turn out about $300 worth of sulphurets per day. The rock has not lead enough to smelt, but too much to work free. It assays $90 per ton. The boys are both homesick and expect to come in soon.

D. B. Boyd, the Bank, and the Bonds.

D. B. Boyd has not yet accepted the Reno Savings Bank's offer to make him cashier with a nameless salary and under bonds of $100,000. Mr. Boyd is willing to accept the trust, but is not willing to provide the bonds. It is understood that the Bank will furnish him bondsmen. Bonds of $100,000 seem rather heavy, considering the general impression that there is nothing left in the Bank to get away with.

Hancock and English Club.

Those Democrats who have signed for the formation of a Hancock and English Club, and all those who are desirous of so doing, are hereby notified that there will be a meeting at Reform Club hall on to-morrow, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization. By order of committee.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

Following is the text of the resolutions adopted by the Republican National Convention on Saturday, June 5, 1880:

Republican rule has restored upon a solid basis payment in coin for all the national obligations, and has given us a currency absolutely good and legal, and equal in every part of our extended country. It has lifted the credit of the nation from the point where six per cent bonds sold at 88, to that where four per cent bonds are eagerly sought at a premium. Under its administration railways have increased from 21,000 miles in 1850 to more than 50,000 miles in 1879. Our foreign trade has increased from $700,000,000 to $1,500,000,000 in the same time, and our exports, which were $300,000,000 less than our imports in 1850, were $361,000,000 more than our imports in 1879. Without resorting to loans it has, since the war, cleared the treasury of the ordinary expenses of government, besides the accruing interest on the public debt, and disbursed annually more than $20,000,000 for soldiers' pensions. It has paid $300,000,000 of the public debt, and by refunding the balance at lower rates, has nearly $100,000,000 to less than $28,000,000. All the industries of the country have revived; labor is in demand; wages have increased, and throughout the entire country there is evidence of a coming prosperity greater than we have ever enjoyed. Upon this record the Republican party asks for the continued confidence and support of the people, and this convention submits for their approval the following statement of the principles and purposes which will continue to guide and inspire its efforts:

REMEMBRANCE OF PRINCIPLES.
First.—We affirm that the work of the last twenty-one years has been such as to commend itself to the favor of the nation, and that the fruits of the country's victories which we have achieved through immediate difficulties should be preserved. That the peace regained should be cherished. That the severe lesson now happily learned, should be perpetuated, and that the liberties secured to this generation should be transmitted undiminished to future generations. That the order established and the credit acquired should never be imperiled. That the pensions promised should be paid. That the debt so much reduced should be extinguished by the full payment of every dollar thereof. That the revived industries should be further promoted, and that the commerce already so great should be steadily encouraged.

Second.—The Constitution of the United States is the supreme law, and not a mere compact. Out of the confederated States it has emerged a nation. Some powers are denied to the nation, while others are retained by the States; but the boundary between the powers of the nation and those reserved to the States, but by the average genius of all.

Fourth.—The Constitution wisely forbids Congress to make any law respecting an establishment of religion, but it is idle to hope that the nation can be protected against the domination of ecclesiastical power, and the exposure to its particular domination. We therefore recommend that the constitution be so amended as to lay under prohibition any law that shall be enacted by Congress, or the Legislature of any State, and to forbid the appropriation of public funds to the support of sectarian schools.

Fifth.—The duties levied for the purpose of revenue should be so discriminate as to favor American labor. That no further grant of public domain should be made to any railroad or other corporation. That slavery, having perished in this country, its twin brother, polygamy, must die in the Territories. That wherever the protection accorded to a citizen of American birth must be secured to citizens of American adoption. That it is the duty of Congress to develop and improve our water-courses, and that we insist upon further subsidies to private persons or corporations must cease. That the obligations to the man who preserved his integrity in the day of battle and diminished by the lapse of fifteen years since their final victory. Their perpetual honor is and shall forever be the greatest privilege and the sacred duty of the American people.

THE CHINESE PLANK.
Sixth.—Since the authority to regulate immigration and intercourse between the United States and foreign nations rests with the Congress of the United States and its treaty-making powers, that the Republican party, regarding the unrestricted migration of the Chinese as an evil of great magnitude, involves the extension of the power to restrict and limit that migration by the enactment of such just, humane and reasonable provisions as will produce the result.

Seventh.—The purity and patriotism which characterized the earlier career of Rufus B. Hayes in peace and war, and which gave to the thought of his immediate predecessor to him for a Presidential candidate, have continued to inspire him in his career as chief executive, and that history which are due to an efficient, just and vigorous fulfillment of the public business, and will honor his reputation between the people and proposed partisan laws.

Eighth.—We charge upon the Democratic party the habitual sacrifice of justice and patriotism to a supreme and insatiable lust for office and patronage; that to obtain possession of the national and state governments and of the control of the place and position, they have obstructed all the efforts to preserve the purity and conserve the freedom of suffrage; have devised traditions, certificates and other means of fraud to secure the election of members of Congress, to secure at all hazards the vote of the majority of States in the House of Representatives; have endeavored to occupy by force and fraud places of trust given to others by the people of Maine; and rescued by the courage and action of Maine's patriotic sons; have by methods vicious in principle and gross in practice, attached political legislation to appropriation bills; have crashed the rights of individuals, and violated the rights of the nation, and have endeavored to obliterate the sacred memories of the war and to overcome its laudable good results; freedom and individual equality. We affirm it to be the duty and purpose of the Republican party to use all the legitimate means of this Union to secure the perfect harmony which may be practicable, and we submit to the practical, sensible people of the United States to say whether it would not be dangerous to the best interests of our country at this time to surrender to an administration of the national government to a party which seeks to overthrow the existing policy under which we are so prosperous, and thus bring destruction and confusion where there is now order, confidence and hope.
